RARE CONCERT E. M. GINN GIANT GRAMOPHONE PHONOGRAPH, 6 FOOT HORN!

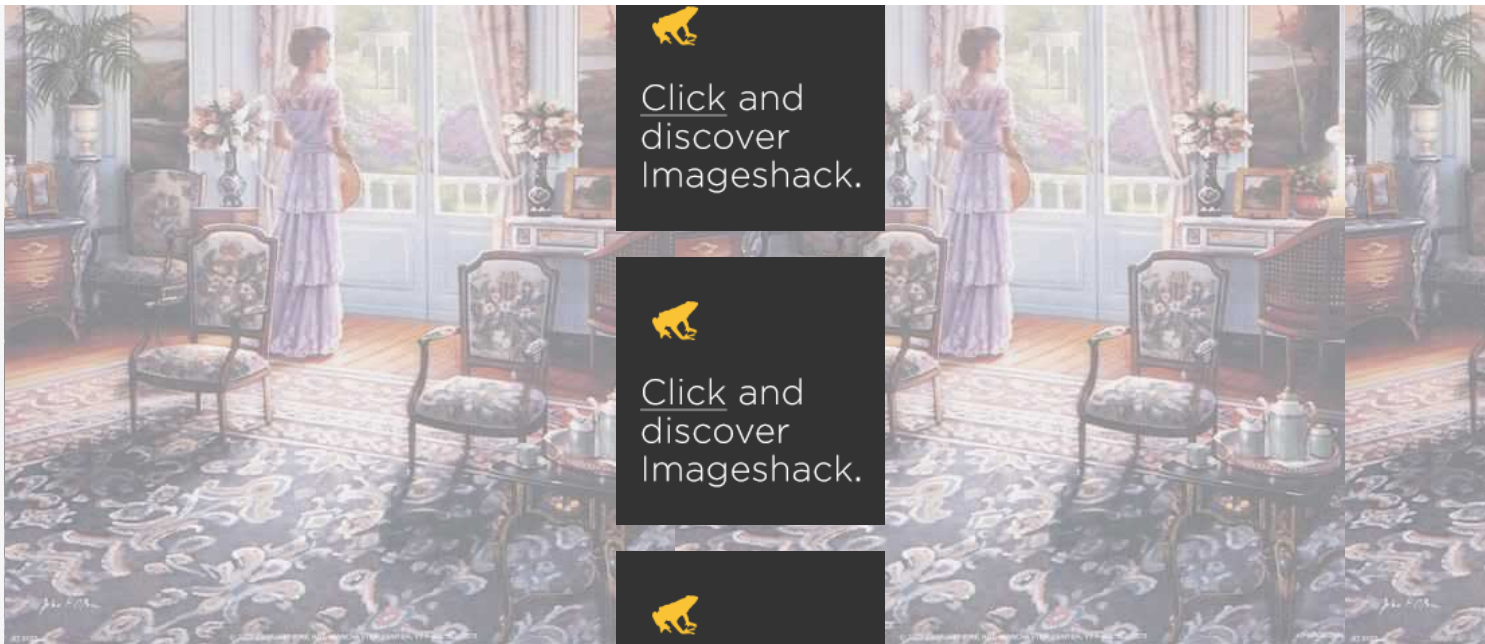

Hear the best sounding phono ever built now!

If you ever wondered what the best sounding acoustic was, look no further, this is it! This is the E. M. Ginn Concert Expert Senior Gramophone. It plays better than the Victor Orthophonic, Columbia Vivatonal, or any other inside or outside horn machine! These were all hand made and used a towering goose next 6 foot long horn that was self supporting. I recorded a foxtrot record from the late 1920's to demonstrate the unbelievable sound quality. It dates from the early to mid 1920's and was primarily used in auditoriums, but some wealthy individuals might have owned one. This one was originally found in Dallas about 35 years ago. It was made in London and exported all over the world They are rarely offered for sale at any time. This one is in perfect operating condition and outside of a few nicks, scratches, marks, and dings, as you might expect from a near 90 year old instrument, it is 100% original with the original finish. Zero motor noise! Don't miss this "in the corner" collector's quality piece. Believe me, the sound is so great, you won't care to listen to any other wind up machine in your collection! I'm including a folder full of vintage records and a bag of old needles. Shipping in the US is $450.00 due to the large freight size for the giant horn. Other cheaper transport is available in the U.S. if you are not in a hurry to get it. Any international shipping needs to be checked on before a quote is made.

If you can't hear this wonder play, call me for a sound file.
